Interview with Brett!

Try to fill in the answers or ask Brett!

So, is Brett your full name?

Brett Garry Standeven is my full name.

Where are you from?

I was born in a small New Zealand town called Gisborne, but my family moved to Auckland when I was young. Auckland has white sand beaches on the east coast, and b_____ sand beaches on the west!

Where is your favourite place at British Hills?

The like the grounds around British Hills. The Autumn c_____ are amazing!

Who is your favourite actor, actress or character?

Adam Sandler is my favourite actor. His films are silly, but incredibly f_____.

What do you do in your free time?

I spend a lot of time blogging; it is a lot of fun. Because you can meet and help people from all over the w_____.

If you had 100 million yen, what would you do?

That's a lot of money. But I'd like to create a wildlife h_____ for little critters to come and visit.

Dogs or cats?

Cats for sure. There's a cat breed called the Maine Coon. They are massive and super fluffy.

If you have time check out the Pallas cat on YouTube. They have h_____like eyes, that say, "come close and you'll be sorry".

Dartmouth Food Festival

For all the food tourists, the Dartmouth Food Festival is a major autumn event which happens in the town of Dartmouth. Dartmouth is a four-hour drive south west of London.

In late October every year, this food festival is a three-day event where many food lovers (foodies) go to try out the latest food trends. It is an opportunity for food vendors to introduce their products. During the event, there are master classes and seminars you can go to and learn cooking hacks from celebrity chefs. Many foodies from all around the UK travel to Dartmouth for this event.

If you love food and plan to travel around England, this is the event for you!
