

Critical Thinking & Media Literacy

Read the following social media message from an old school friend:

Hey! Long time no see! How are you? I see on your Facebook that you got married. Congratulations! You look really happy.

So I know how expensive starting married life can be – I got married too last year! And I wanted to tell you how I found a GREAT job. I make lots of money, work short hours, and am my own boss!

So Val-U-Life is an amazing new company selling incredible health products! They have become a multi-million dollar business in just 4 years!

Because we're old friends, I would love for you to join me. My journey has begun! From my first small investment I am now able to earn up to $30,000 a month.

For you to do this too, all you need to do is make a small investment of $1500. There's lots of options available, but you need to decide quickly. This opportunity won't last forever.

So get back to me soon! It will to be great to work together!
