Audio Transcript

On a sunny Wednesday morning, Lucy and Sally were shopping in Tokyo and visiting their favourite shops and cafes.

They spent some time window shopping, and then at 11.30 they went to a bookshop. Sally was buying a book when she saw an elephant. She was surprised at first, but then she realized it was only a model!

After buying their books, they were hungry. It took a long time to find a restaurant, but by 1pm they were having lunch at Tokyo Skytree.

They finished lunch at 2pm. It was a beautiful day, so Sally took pictures of the view while Lucy was paying the bill. Then they took the train home.
