Interview with Liv!

So, is Liv your full name?

No, Lavinia is my full name.

Where are you from?

I'm from England in the UK. I was born in China and moved there when I was six years old.

How many languages can you speak?

I can speak two languages, English and C _ _ _ _ _ e. When I was in high school, I studied French for five years but unfortunately I only know three phrases.

Who is your favourite actor, actress or character?

Benedict Cumberbatch because I've met him in person and he plays Sherlock, one of my favourite c _ _ _ _ _ s.

Try to fill in the answers or ask Liv!

What do you do in your free time?

I enjoy eating out with friends and road trips when it's sunny. Nothing better than the feeling of a long d _ _ _ e on a sunny day with good company.

If you were a superhero, what would be your superpower?

To be able to see the history of objects when I touch them. I wanted to be a d _ _ _ _ _ e when I was younger and I think this would be handy.

Tea or Coffee?

Tea of all kinds. I have a sweet t _ _ _ h, I put way too much sugar in coffee. But the smell of fresh coffee is hard to beat.

The Canadian Pacific-Northwest

The Pacific Northwest, or PNW for short, is home to the largest temperate rainforest in the world. It reaches north to south from British Columbia in Canada down to Washington, Oregon, and Idaho in the US. Spring there starts a month early, and with it comes a riot of bright colours and vibrant greens as the forests wake up from the winter cold.

Many people in this region spend a lot of time outdoors gardening, hiking, kayaking, running, camping, and even swimming. If the fresh smell of spring rain, the quiet pattering of dripping water, and the spark of life is something you enjoy, then perhaps a visit to the Pacific Northwest in the spring just might be for you.
